

RAISING THE STANDARD for Water Heating Solutions

For over 20 years, Heat-flo, an American built and owned company, has designed, engineered and manufactured high quality, cost-efficient water heating and storage products for residential, commercial, and industrial applications. The Heat-flo team of highly experienced workers and craftspeople originate all product design, manufacturing, sales, and ongoing market support at our facility in Uxbridge, Massachusetts, USA.

Due to continued growth, we are looking to add additional team members to our pool of talented, highly skilled craftspeople. Candidates interested in the following positions should forward resumes to, Karen Nardone at knardone@heat-flo.com. Heat-flo offers a comprehensive benefits package to all full-time employees and a competitive salary based on skill and work ethic not experience.

Metal Fabricator Job Description

Responsible for cutting and/or rolling 316L steel sheets according to company standards and drawing specifications, cutting and/or rolling 316 stainless steel tubing according to company standards and drawing specifications, cut and fabricate any type of metal as specified by the supervisor, operate a fork truck, if licensed, and perform any other task as assigned by the supervisor. Basic computer skills are needed to retrieve work orders and enter completed work. Knowledge of ERP systems is helpful.

RAISING THE STANDARD